

“Working Harder To Make Aging Easier”

AGENCY ON AGING OF NORTHEASTERN ILLINOIS ANNOUNCES NEW SERVICE PROVIDERS FOR KANE AND MC HENRY COUNTIES

Staff and Volunteers Sought for Home Delivered Meal Programs for More Than 850 Residents Age 60+

West Chicago, Ill., - (Feb. 6, 2018) – The Agency on Aging of Northeastern Illinois, who funds congregate and home-delivered meals to Illinois residents age 60+ in Chicago’s collar counties, today announced a change of service providers in Kane and McHenry counties.

Starting March 1, 2018, Catholic Charities of the Archdiocese of Chicago will provide home-delivered meals, commonly known as “meals on wheels” in McHenry County and the Kane Senior Council will deliver meals in Kane County. Previously, meal service in both counties was managed by The Salvation Army Golden Diners program.

Meals are delivered to residents 3 to 5 times a week, and often they are the primary source of nutrition for program participants. According to Meals On Wheels America, 81% of Illinois meal recipients report improved health and 92% say the program enables them to remain living at home.

“Providing nutritious meals to underserved seniors is a priority for every community,” said Marla Fronczak, executive director of the Agency on Agency of Northeastern Illinois. “We know Catholic Charities and Kane Senior Council staff and volunteers will aptly serve some of our most vulnerable residents at a time when the weather adds a layer of difficulty to obtaining nutritious meals.”

Fronczak said Illinois home-delivered meal participants face the risk of nursing home admission if meals are not provided, adding that many are unable to leave home on a regular basis to obtain food. One year of “meals on wheels” costs approximately the same as one day in the hospital, added Fronczak.

Both agencies are in need of volunteers to deliver meals and staff members to coordinate meal distribution and volunteer scheduling.
